The Amazing Kreskin

For over four decades, The Amazing Kreskin has dramatized the unusual power of the human mind with a rare combination of wit and showmanship. Kreskin, who has performed for the likes of royalty and presidential families, has also made well over 500 television appearances, in addition, to those as host of his own highly rated series and specials. Ever-earning his status as "the world's foremost mentalist." Kreskin offers $50,000 to anyone who can prove he employs paid assistants or confederates during any of his performances. On stage and television, Kreskin seeks to reveal the thoughts of audience members, plant suggestions in fully aware subjects and dazzle with feats of extraordinary mental projections. As one of the highlights of his stage show, he regularly asks to have his check hidden anywhere in the premises. If he fails to find it he will forfeit his fee. With a hectic schedule of over 300 appearances a year worldwide, Kreskin is constantly challenging the impossible with amazing results. Kreskin has also used his unique gifts to make a positive social contribution. His highly developed skills have led to the discovery of crucial evidence in several major criminal investigations. He has also devoted a great deal of time in and out of the nation's courtrooms questioning the validity of testimony given by hypnotized witnesses and the reliability of hypnosis in general. Kreskin's name and face have gained a household recognition from appearances on national television including five appearances within the last year on The Late Show with David Letterman with fellow guests: Will Smith, Governor Jesse Ventura, and Martha Stewart. Kreskin has also dazzled viewers on MTV, Live with Regis and Kathie Lee, The Howard Stern Radio Show, Larry King Live and CNN Morning News. On New Year's Day 1999, The Amazing Kreskin appeared on CNN Today to make his annual Predictions for 1999 and to the world's amazement three of his predictions came true during the month of January. The mentalist has dazzled millions of international viewers each week for years with his television series "The Amazing World of Kreskin" and starring in "Kreskin's Quest," a series of internationally syndicated specials. Kreskin often warms up an audience with a deft display of sleight-of-hand as a preparation for the thought reading to come. He enjoys defying the eye and admits, "The ESP factor needs a solid mental foundation to be successful. Once the audience mem-
