DOUG FERRARI

Doug Ferrari is a veteran "lifer" comedian who has played almost everywhere with almost everyone. He began clowning around at 17 when he started The High Wire Radio Choir. In 1984, Doug snagged first place in the San Francisco International Comedy Competition, leading to national headlining appearances at major clubs, with television spots including Showtime, MTV, Fox and Comedy Central. A prolific comedy writer, Doug has written for TV and radio as well as for Rodney Dangerfield, Jay Leno, and many others. Lately, Doug has headlined Northern California comedy clubs, is a regular contributor to KFOG morning radio and produces weekly local comedy evenings, featuring local professional comedians.
