Jack Mack & The Heart Attack

Jack Mack and the Heart Attack are described as "extraordinary musicians and dynamic performers," they continue to travel the world performing concerts, major corporate events, as well as festivals and the world's most outrageous private affairs. Their individual style of high energy R&B /Soul music has garnered an ever expanding and loyal following. Original Jack Mack members John Paruolo (keyboards), Andrew Kastner (guitars), and Bill Bergman (saxophone) have sought out the best musicians to add to their distinctive sound. Joining founding members are bassist/vocalist Tim Scott, who has performed with Tower of Power, Etta James, Eric Clapton and Stevie Wonder and drummer Les Falconer, who has recorded and performed with the O'Jays, Toni Braxton, Johnny "Guitar" Watson and Jody Watley. Rounding out the band are trumpeter Les Lovitt, who has recorded and toured with Woody Herman and Brian Setzer, and vocalist Mark Campbell, lead singer for Jack Mack throughout the mid 80's and early 90's, returning to the lineup and bringing his powerful 'blue eyed soul' vocals styles back to the band. Throughout shifting musical trends, the Jack Mack focus has prevailed, their music remaining true to American Rhythm & Blues and Soul. The band maintains their commitment to writing and recording new songs, and their legendary groove-'til-you-sweat, dance-'til-you-drop performances continue to thrill and delight audiences.
