Latido

Latido specializes in danceable traditional Cuban music styles including Son, Changui, Guajira and Bolero. Son is a highly contagious, energetic music made popular with the Buena Vista Social Club film and recordings. Latido's repertoire also includes styles like the Puerto Rican Plena and the Dominican (now international) Bachata. Latido's music take us back in time, invites us to dance, and it is equally enjoyed by the more laid back listener. Close intricate vocal harmonies, the rhythm pulse of the bongo drum and bass, the acoustic guitar in combination with the unique sound of the traditional tres guitar (a three double set string instrument developed in Cuba) and the lively original and traditional compositions will surely please every audience.
